Help for a Helping Hand

MARION TO KENYA

President Andrew Patterson, left, of the Marion-Mattapoisett Kiwanis Club, presents a check to Mr. Joseph Wright of Marion that will help to send Marion Ann Fernandes of Marion on a teaching venture in Kenya, Africa.

Marion, who is the girl with the beautiful voice and personality, warmly remembered from "South Pacific" and "Camelot", is now a Colby Junior College freshman. She has been accepted for a summer helping hand project sponsored by Operation Crossroads Africa, Inc. She has been awarded a $500 grant by RESPONSE, a Colby organization, but needs an additional $300 to $500 to meet the expenses of the trip.

Marion's scholarship requirements prevent her from using money she earns or family money for the purpose. So the local Kiwanis has come forth with some assistance in the form of this check. Mr. Wright, who is helping Marion's cause, said that he thinks that there is no doubt that she will make this trip.

While in Kenya, she will teach secretarial subjects to 50 African women in Nairobi. She is one of four Colby students selected for this year's "second phase" of the project. A team went to Africa last year to explain the program and they toured Kenya speaking to women. Now 50 women are awaiting the arrival of their young instructors who will teach them typing, shorthand, filing and music.

Marion appeared in four Old Rochester musicals and is now lead singer with a 4-piece college band named "Gatsby's Emporium". The band plays weekends for fraternity and school engagements.

Mr. Joseph Wright, of Acushnet Process Company, has organized and run his own "Send Marion" campaign. He has been

Miss Wareham Pageant

A preliminary meeting of contestants of the Miss Wareham Scholarship Pageant was held this week with executive pageant director, Mrs. Rita L. Blair. The informal get-together at the sponsors' Chamber of Commerce Information Booth was to discuss various parts of the contest such as swimsuit rules, time limits of talent presentations and all important judges' interviews.

The conference was the lone meeting of the group vying for the Miss Wareham title prior to their public introduction at the Scholarship Ball held Saturday. Contestants already have been accepted from the Wareham franchised area and are as follows: Noreen McConnell of Plymouth, Mary Ann Gomes and Becky Ann Zora of Marion, Lizbeth Pablo of Mattapoisett, Priscilla Howard of Cataumet, Brenda Pierce, Barbara Gallus, Donna Desjardins and Carol Checetto of Wareham. Only Middleboro as yet has no entry in the annual event, sponsored by the Wareham Chamber of Commerce, as a preliminary to the Miss Massachusetts Pageant held in Attleboro in July. From there the winner moves up to the magic circle of the

GRANGE MEETING

Mattapoisett Grange held its bi-monthly meeting last Thursday night with the worthy master, Susan Bence, presiding.

Deputy Kenneth Skinner of the Massachusetts State Grange made an official visit. Also at the master's right were Pomona Master Paul Ouellette and Herbert LaFleur, master of Acushnet Grange. Mr. Ouellette urged members to join Sippican Pomona when he and his officers confer the 5th degree in Rochester Saturday, May 4th.

The Home and Community Service chairman, Mrs. Ruby Barber, announced that through the courtesy of the Village Cleaners on Route 6 a window had been arranged with Grange articles in observance of National Grange Week.

A score of 96 was announced for the Junior Grange report. The Juniors will have a workshop on Wednesday, May 1st, at 3 P.M. to start its State and National Projects. Plans will be completed at the April 26th meeting.

In the place of the degrees, the lecturer presented a program between the men and women with Walter Caswell, chairman for the men and Olive Gifford for the women. The three honored guests were the judges.

A fine program was put on by the men, with a reading by Earle Wilson, harmonica solos by Albert Pemberton, John Raphael speaking on the experiences he enjoyed while serving as State and National officer of the American Legion, William Smith, information on vegetables in Mexico and humorous anecdotes by Otto Kellish.

The second part of the program was much enjoyed with the ladies dressed in old fashioned costumes singing old fashion tunes. Taking part were Susan Bence, Ruby Barber, Gladys Pearson, Evelyn Linhares, Corrine Lawrence and Margarite Vaughan with Olive Gifford accompanying them on the ukulele. Poems were read by Etta Kellish, Marjorie Wilson and Ruth Shaw.

The judges could not come to an agreement so prizes of gladioli bulbs were presented to Mrs. Gifford and Mr. Caswell.

Mrs. Evelyn Linhares also received gladioli bulbs for the lecturer's march.

Announcements were made by Otto Kellish on the Grange Fair August 24th and the auction at the Grange Hall April 27th at 7 P.M.

A whist party will be held in the Grange Hall Monday evening at 8 P.M., May 6th, with Mildred LeBaron as chairman.

Complimentary remarks were expressed by Deputy Skinner on the general work of the Grange; also on the value of the Junior Grange.

Coffee, cake and brownies were enjoyed during the social hour.

The Junior Grange will entertain and furnish the refreshments for the May 2nd meeting.

COOL SIPPING MELONS MATCH PARTY MOOD

Melons, seasoned with your favorite liquors combine party dessert and party drinks and make intriguing summer sipping.

To make any melon into a sipping dessert, cut out a triangular wedge. The seeds and pith should be scooped out through the plug. Then pour liquor into the hollow and put in the refrigerator for a few hours. The liquor will permeate the fruit, giving every bite exciting new flavor.

Or carry the idea to its logical conclusion and use small melons as containers for drinks. The drinks will never taste better, and the "edible" glasses make a dessert beyond compare.

SPIRITED SIPPING MELON

Cut a triangular wedge, or two or three if the melon is large, from the top side of a ripe watermelon. Remove the plugs and fill with 1 pint or more gin or vodka. Seal the openings with the plugs and chill till serving time. Cut off top in a scalloped pattern, and stud with straws.

HONEYDEW MELON

1 honeydew melon, chilled
2 tsps. sugar
2 tsps. water
4 oz. bourbon
4 sprigs fresh mint

Divide melon, making scalloped edges. Scoop out pith and seeds. Stir sugar and water in tall glass to dissolve. Add bourbon, mint and shaved ice to fill. Stir with muddler till very cold. Strain into melon halves. Serve with straws and spoons. Makes 2 drinks.

CANTALOUP TODAY

1 small cantaloup
1 oz. whiskey
½ cup reconstituted frozen lemonade

Cut top off, making scalloped edge. Scoop out pith and seeds. Fill hollow with whiskey and lemonade. Serve as above. Makes 1 drink.

Friendship Circle

Hilltop Friendship Circle held a work meeting at the Sunday School rooms. Mrs. Lillian Johnson was reported ill. A humorous poem, written by Mrs. Mary Hammond and Mrs. Helen Winslow, about over-eating, was mailed to Mrs. Johnson with a get well card.

Invocation by Mrs. Leila B. Sherman preceded the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Ruth W. Shaw.

Plans were completed for a luncheon to be served members of Long Plain Preparative Meeting.

A cake made by Mrs. Clara M. Winters of Marion was served with ice cream and Happy Birthday was sung to three members observing birthdays in April - Mrs. Emma Walsh, Mrs. Edith Morrell and Mrs. Lillian Johnson.

Members will be guests of East Fairhaven Ladies Benevolent Society on May 15th. The members living in Marion and Wareham will be hostesses to Hilltop Friendship

Parent-Teachers Club

The Mattapoisett Parent-Teachers Club will hold its last meeting of the year on Thursday, May 2nd, at 6:45 P.M. at the Old Hammondtown School cafeteria. Another delicious meal will be served by Mrs. Ada C. Delano and her staff. This has become an annual event and a large turnout is expected. Parents should plan to be at the school at about 6:30 P.M.

A part of the program will be the announcement and introduction of the 1968-1969 executive board. Election of officers will be held during the short business meeting, A ballot has been prepared but nominations also will be accepted from the floor. Door

CHANNEL 2 AUCTION

A rare collector's item for politicians or antique lovers -- an Abraham Lincoln campaign medal -- will be sold at the Channel 2 Auction during the week of June 3 thru 8.

This unusual medal is only one of the nearly 6,000 items that Channel 2 expects to sell on its fantastic television-telephone auction.

So far there's a two-week trip to Hawaii for two, talking parrots, lambs, a memento from the Apollo spacecraft, rare books, several color TVs, a gas stove and 25 lbs of roast beef. Car seats, barbering, beauty treatments and disposable sheets and pillow cases will also be auctioned, and this is only the beginning.

The warehouse, contributed by the Polaroid Corporation, is starting to be filled, but there are thousands of square feet of space that hopefully will be jam-packed by Auction time.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I am nauseated by the apparent desire of some so-called Republicans to get New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller nominated for the Presidency.

Sometimes I wonder about the depth of real Republicanism of these persons. Could it be that they are Democrats at heart, voting in the Primary for the weakest Republican candidate, and then, in the election, voting for the Democrat?

Considerable Party progress was made two years ago. I do not want to see this gain sabotaged, and the road paved for election of another Democratic President, by an unwise nomination.

Governor Rockefeller has been involved in two Party defeats. I consider that his nomination would serve to perpetuate the divisions of four years ago.

VETERANS' PARK CLEAN-UP

In keeping with the theme of the month Keeping America Beautiful Cub Scout Pack 53 of Mattapoisett spent some time on Friday picking up litter from Veterans' Memorial Park at Ned's Point.

Many willing hands made light work of an excellent project for spring as these Mattapoisett scouts cleaned up the park. A season of careless people and winter winds had scattered unsightly debris over the whole area. It is now clean, thanks to these youngsters who gathered a truckload of rubbish by hand and carted it to the dump.

Several large bags of broken glass, beer cans and papers were picked up by the Cubs with the assistance of Boy Scout Thomas Price, Den Chief of Den 1, and the following Den Mothers: Mrs. Arthur Bassett, Mrs. Robert Burbank, Mrs. Edward Lewis, Mrs. Frank Linhares, Mrs. Jarvis Simpson and Mrs. Neil Sylvia. After the trash was carted away by Mr. H. C. Broadwater, the boys enjoyed a picnic lunch followed by relay races and games.

The next Cub event will be the monthly pack meeting scheduled for Monday, April 29th, at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Parents will be entertained by songs presented by each Den and a movie will be shown.

A bake sale has been scheduled at the A & P Company for Saturday, May 11th. Proceeds from this sale will help finance a Cub Scout field day scheduled for June.

National YWCA Week

The Young Women's Christian Association of New Bedford will join April 21-29 with YWCAs across the United States to help girls and young women know that they do count in today's world.

The occasion will be National YWCA Week with the theme, "Where You Count--the YWCA," according to Mrs. Erma E. DeBoer, executive director.

"We believe this theme stresses what is at the base of all YWCA program -- the individual girl or woman who wants to find a place where she can develop her own potential and contribute to her community, nation, and world," Mrs. DeBoer said.

National YWCA Week, Mrs. DeBoer explained, also offers the YWCA both locally and nationally an opportunity to bring before even larger numbers of girls and young women, and the community at large, some of the new developments in Association program.

In this community, for example, she noted the following as among special programs that have been added to the Association calendar with a view to extending YWCA services: The New Bedford Committee on Household Employment was initiated by the YWCA and the Church Women United in line with the National Committee on Household Employment to give status and dignity to this occupation. The committee has arranged and given training to household employees and acquainted employers with the elements of successful employer/employee relationships. With the New Bedford Chamber of Commerce the YWCA has investigated the need for tour guides in New Bedford, and to that end has set up a training course for tour guides through the help of community resources. It is hoped that this will help promote New Bedford as a tourist attraction.

National YWCA Week, initiated in 1948, is the time when all YWCAs in the United States work together to reach potential members and help them as well as the total community have a better understanding of the national and international aspects of the YWCA. Today, the Association is at work in more than 75 countries, providing opportunities for girls and young women to develop their skill as organization and community leaders as well as working with them as they seek to enrich their personal lives by giving and receiving through the program of the YWCA.

League of Women Voters

The League of Women Voters of Marion has been conducting a study of county government. The work of the League came to an end for this year on March 20th with the presentation of its findings to date at two unit meetings. After a short description of the history and background of county government, the structure of county government was outlined on two large charts by Mrs. Makepeace. Then each member of the resource committee took the part of a county official as follows: Mrs. Marso, County Commissioner; Mrs. Chamberlain, County Treasurer; Mrs. Sabbagh, County Judge of District, Probate, Land, Superior and Supreme Courts; Mrs. Makepeace, District Attorney; Mrs. Walsh, Sheriff; Mrs. Briggs, Dr. Strieter, director of County Hospital; Mrs. Saltonstall, Register of Probate and Register of Deeds; and Mrs. Makepeace, County Agricultural Schools and Extension Services.

Each one described briefly the duties of

"MUTINY"

When Samuel Samuels, captain of the clipper "Dreadnought," signed up the unsavory Bloody Forty in Liverpool in 1859, he knew they were hardened criminals who had killed their previous skipper.

But, according to the famed "Disaster Books" in the Marine Library of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Company, crews were hard to find, and the fiery Samuels was confident he could tame anyone who walked a deck.

The first sign of mutiny flared when the "Dreadnought", with 200 emigrants in steerage, was barely at sea. The helmsman insolently drew a knife, but the burly Captain promptly knocked him senseless and had him put into irons.

The Bloody Forty quickly rushed the skipper . . . and found themselves looking into two menacingly cocked pistols and the snarling teeth of the Captain's dog. Samuels roared defiance and slowly forced the mutineers into the fo'c'sle.

The Captain decided to starve the Bloody Forty into submission. The passengers, panicky, begged to be put into Queenstown, only eight miles away. Here, then, was Samuels quelling a mutiny, quieting 200 nervous passengers and maneuvering one of the fastest ships afloat, with a handful of loyal aides.

Samuels, speaking German, recruited 17 sturdy emigrants. He armed them with iron bars and quietly stationed them around the deckhouse.

After 56 hours of starvation, the crew broke out and rushed aft to take the ship. The deck became a bloody battlefield. But the combination of Samuels' pistols and the emigrants' iron bars soon quelled the mutiny. "For the rest of the passage these suddenly reformed villains were as meek as so many lambs," the Atlantic Mutual annals report. Captain Samuels won over the Bloody Forty completely. In fact, on Sunday the Captain "lectured them on the evil ways of their life."

Rumor preceded the "Dreadnought" into New York. When police came aboard to arrest the mutineers, Captain Samuels asked, "What mutineers? Why, I'd ship these men tomorrow if I needed a crew!"

At this, the Bloody Forty surrounded Captain Samuel Samuels and gave him three rousing cheers.

her office and outlined the services performed by her department. Thanks to the information obtained by the members of the seven Leagues in Plymouth County in interviews with all the county officials, it was possible to include some of their opinions on the problems of county government as well as their thoughts on its strengths and its weaknesses.

Mrs. Sabbagh discussed the county budget using a large pie chart to illustrate her points.

A lively question period followed, and then the League members of each unit talked about the direction the study should take next year. It was felt that more time should be spent on the following things: 1) How Connecticut handled the abolition of county government in 1959 and what has happened since then, with special attention to the comparative costs before and after. 2) More careful study of the Legislative Committee on Counties with a view to finding out more about the budget. Shouldn't each county have a representative on this committee? 3) More study of the connection between counties and political parties. 4) A study of the need for increased regionalization of services i.e. water and air pollution, sewage, garbage disposal, traffic control, etc. It was suggested by Mrs. Saunders that the League make an overlay map of the county showing congressional and

BE A FASHION ROMANTIC!

This is the year for it, say the fashion astrologers! And, with the summer issue of McCall's Patterns on the newsstands now, it's easy for the nimble-with-thimble lady to chart a romantic wardrobe ahead of the season.

This eagerly awaited almanac of fashion, which comes out in January, April and August so that you can stitch in time, says that all the signs point to the rise of the ruffle, and the not-to-be-missed flattery of the belted waist. Add to this the hidden force of pale pretty colors, delicate fabrics, and dirndl-skirted dresses swept with ruffles, and it's clear to see that fashion has done an about face! This is the moment, says editor Phyllis Roderick "... to feel again the secret joy and psychic security of looking feminine!"

Phyllis Roderick

What's heavenly in the new summer issue are the "Summer Jewels" by New York Designers – exclusive patterns photographed in sparkling white, plus mother-daughter outfits, all the new styles up fashion's sleeve, swim suit ensembles, and a skyfull of eye-full dresses, separates and suits. Of course, the special features on sewing secrets, fabrics and new products that make this magazine an "encyclopedia" referred to year round are also included in the latest issue.

According to McCall's Patterns this is the Year of the Daisy, and fresh-as-field daisies do cover yards of new fabrics, trims and laces. But, there's no need for you to pluck petals to find out if this Romance will last – your love affair with this flattering new look is sure to be permanent.

YWCA NEWS

A timely program for those preparing for summer is offered by the Travel Club of the YWCA on Friday, April 26th, at 8:00 P.M. when Miss Alberta Silveira will talk and show slides of "Camping Across the United States". She and two friends and a dog spent six weeks camping in 26 states and two Canadian provinces last summer, travelling 10,500 miles. Although they spent much time camping in California, they visited several National Parks and used camp sites in them. Miss Silveira, a resident of Mattapoisett and presently teaching physical education at New Bedford Vocational School,
